

ST. LOUIS PALLADIUM

Vol. XX. No. 27.

ST. LOUIS, MO., SATURDAY, JUNE 18, 1904.

$2.00 Per Annum, Single Copy 5 cents.

Circulated Among 170,000 Colored People in the City of St. Louis and the State of Missouri. The Best Advertising Medium in the West. We Exchange with 125 Negro Newspapers in the United States.

PROF. W. E. B. DU BOIS

Famous Author of "The Souls of Black Folk"

TRUE REFORMERS' HALL

Wednesday Evening, June 29th

"THE OUTLOOK" contains an extended article called "Two Typical Leaders," which begins as follows: "Prof. W. E. B. DuBois and Booker T. Washington. They represent different types of character, different conceptions of the race problem, different methods for its solution, and they deal with it in a widely different spirit."

Lecture at 8 p. m. Great Western orchestra at 9:30 o'clock. New attraction of the Lyceum Sketch club will be Mrs. Chas. Sumner Brown, the greatest living prima donna soprano.

WORLD'S FAIR JOTTINGS.

Prominent speakers will address the civic improvement meetings at the World's fair, in St. Louis this week.

Circulation managers of metropolitan newspapers are holding a three days' session at the World's fair in St. Louis.

William H. Stopy and son, just arrived at St. Louis traveled from Pittsburgh, Pa., in an open boat to see the World's fair.

Five thousand dollars has been given anonymously for worthy students at Columbia university to enable them to visit the World's fair.

President Roosevelt gave a luncheon to the honorary Filipino commission to the St. Louis World's fair, which is now touring the country.

World's fair officials believe that M. Lagrave, commissioner-general from France to the World's fair, has been removed or suspended.

A silken balloon, believed to have traveled nearly 1,000 miles from the St. Louis fair, descended upon the steps of the Fifth street entrance to the Philadelphia bourse Monday morning.

The Southwest Missouri Press association will be in session on the World's fair grounds, St. Louis, on Monday and Tuesday, June 20 and 21. Brief sessions will be held in the Missouri building on the days named.

For the first time in the history of universal expositions, the leading universities of the United States are to officially recognize the Louisiana Purchase exposition as an educational institution by the establishment of field schools.

At the Douglass Buffet.

Remember that J. P. Watkins, at the Douglass hotel, has the original Bud, 10 cents a bottle, and the best lemonade for ten cents per glass.

Chickens Will Come Home to Roost.

When Julius Lehmann rests his weary head on the prison bed, will he ever think of the republican party? Will he think of the time when W. H. Fields had him almost beaten? When Julius Lehmann called for Wheeler to go out into his ward and save him, which he did? Does he now think of the way he treated Mr. G. H. Martin, secretary of the house of delegates; Chas. Gundlach, assistant secretary, and J. W. Wheeler, sergeant-at-arms of the house of delegates? He led the host that killed the republican party in St. Louis with the $47,000. We are indeed sorry for Emile Hartmann, a young man who ought to have kept better company than that of our friend and brother, and old college chum, Julius Lehmann.

Mrs. Smith of 4216, St. Louis Avenue, Passes to the Land of Rest.

Last Sunday Mrs. Smith died, after an illness of four weeks. Surrounded by many relatives, she passed into the land of rest. She was a member of Antioch church for 24 years, and a Christian for 40 years. She was a most faithful and zealous Christian. Her neighbors loved and respected her. She leaves four daughters, one son, one sister, one son-in-law and 15 grandchildren to mourn her loss. She was a member of Mt. Carmel Temple of the Brothers and Sisters of Purity. She was buried from Antioch Baptist church.

We have known Sister Smith for a number of years, and we never met a more conscientiously good mother Christian in all our walk of life. It is as the Bible says: As one star differs from another in glory, so shall Sister Smith's crown differ from others in glory. As she approached the Jordan, she seemed to realize that she was passing from this world to a more congenial clime, where our God dwells. May she rest in peace.

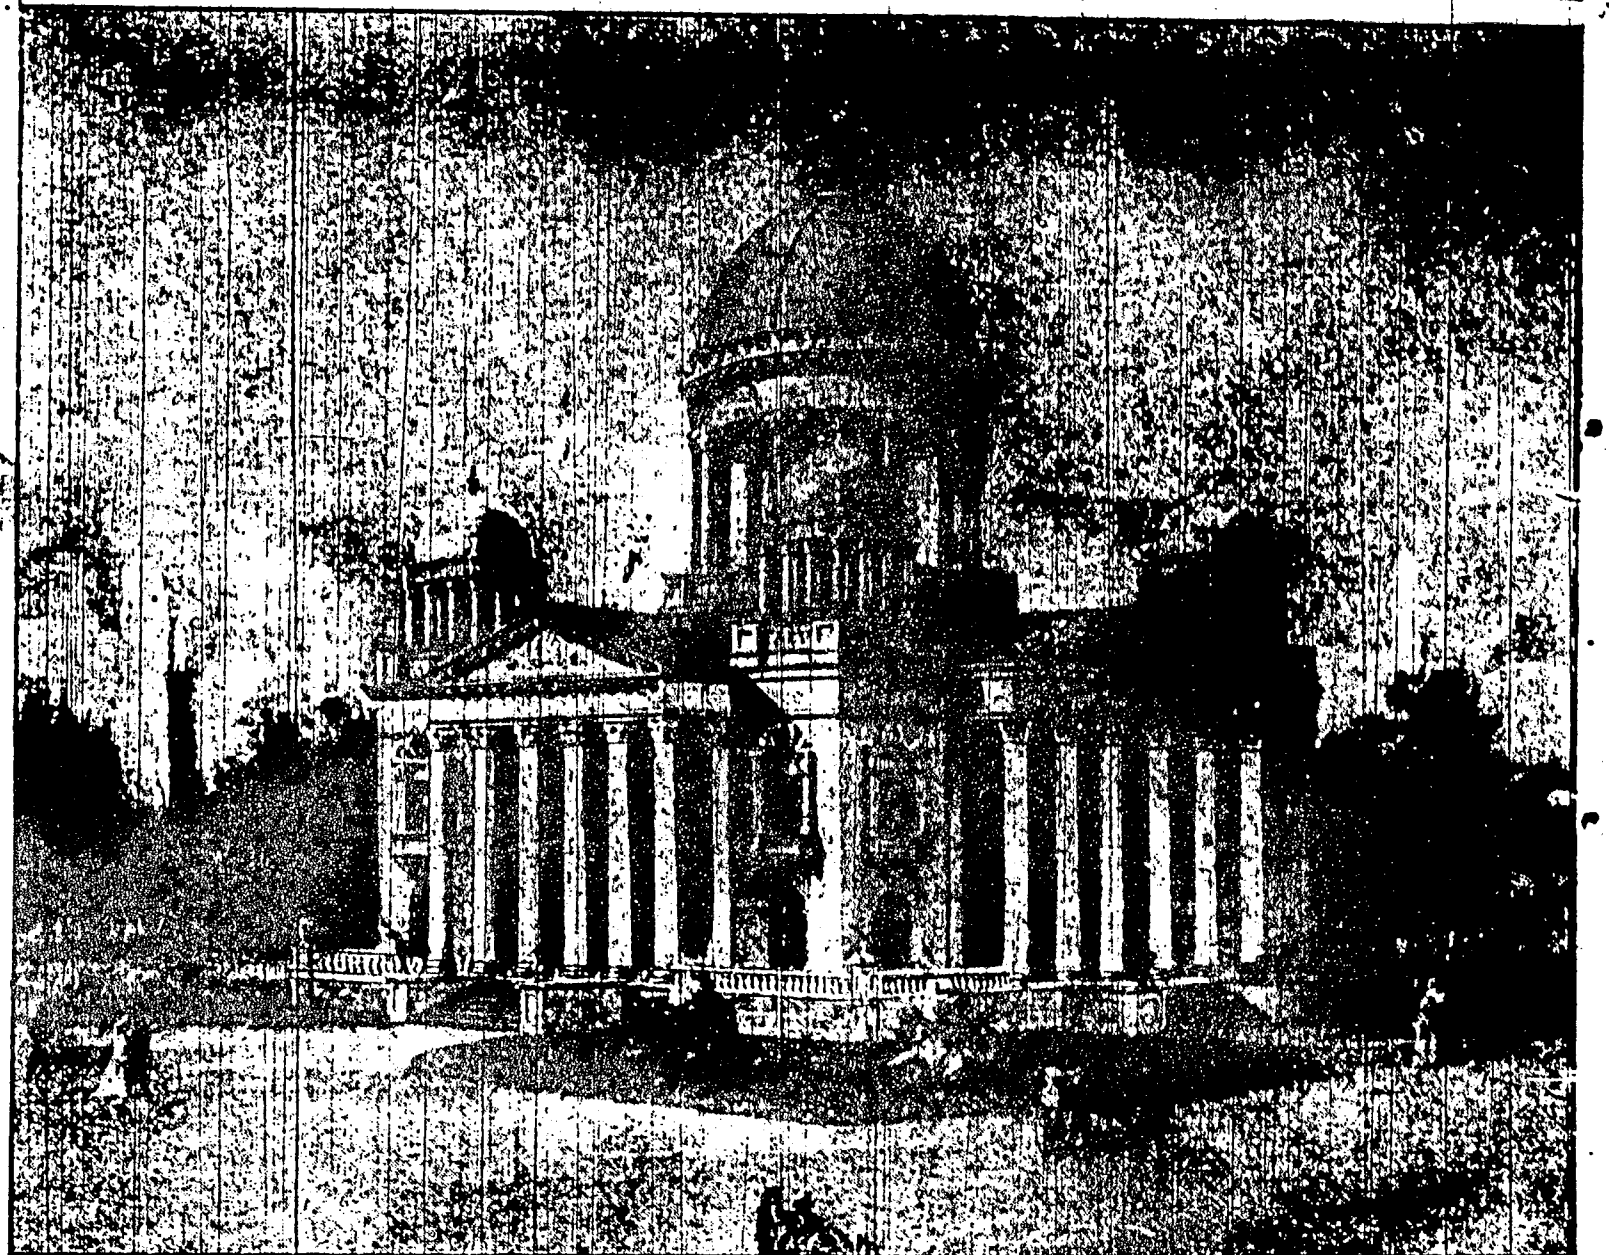

True Reformers' Boat Excursion.

The boat bearing excursionists to Montezano last Monday was well filled. They spent a pleasant time. Many summer girls slowly strolled away from the levee as the boat pulled out. Mothers doubtless thought they were at school, but many of the girls sadly turned away as the steamer left the shore. However, the Orphans' Home excursion, next Monday, will very likely carry many of them. The True Reformers' excursion was a success in general.

St. Paul's Barbecue.

Quite a large number of those who attended the excursion of True Reformers arrived home, only to start to Hoehn's grove to attend the barbecue given by St. Paul's chapel. The band played "Home Sweet Home," about one o'clock, but the great number arriving steadily opened showed that closing the evening's pleasure at 11 would only result in loss in many ways. Everyone enjoyed himself at the barbecue, and St. Paul's name, for being a successful entertainer has not been marred in the least.

Stop that cough. Pickett's Cough Syrup.

WEST VIRGINIA WORLD'S FAIR.

Lyrics of Love.

Rev. Charles R. Dinkins, the author of "Lyrics of Love," is undoubtedly an excellent writer. His sacred poems are most enthusiastic. They display the pureheartedness which emanates from a religious soul. His secular poems, in which he depicts the Negro of the southern states, and also gives the opinion of the persecuted race upon their condition in general, arouses in one a kindly feeling toward Rev. Dinkins. The following stanza is but an introduction to many others of its kind:

"What's the boasted creed of color?
'Tis no standard for a race;
Justice's mansion has no cellar,
All must fill an even place.
We must share the rights of others,
Dwelling here as kin with kin;
We are black, but we are brothers;
We are black, but we are men."

Notice to Subscribers.

The Palladium is mailed every Friday night, and the paper ought to be delivered in the first or second mail. You will confer a favor upon the manager of The Palladium by sending a postal card. Of course some papers and letters are lost, and we trust that you will consider this, and don't be too strict upon the non-delivery of a paper in a few instances.

The Alcove Garden and Concert Hall.

At 2032 Market street Mr. Hugh B. White has completed his garden, and is now open for business. The hall is crowded nightly, and a first-class concert performance is given hourly. Mr. Jerry Banks is the leading man, and 15 first-class artists are under him. This is the largest concert hall in the city for our people. Fun, fun, is the pass word every night. Restaurant in connection.

NOTICE.

We would like to know the whereabouts of Mrs. Charity Mitchell. We have in our care an important letter for her. It is from the United States senate. Call.

Cost of a Day's Visit.

Car fare$0.05
Admission50
Intramural ride10
Luncheon35
Dinner75
On The Pike (two shows)50
Car fare05

Push chair (if tourist wishes)..... .50

Total.....$2.30

How many duds and hangers-on can take a young lady or one of those would-be women to St. Louis' World's fair for five days in a month, or 30 times during the World's fair? If you can't take them now, you can not take them after marriage, if you marry them. SNOOKS.

Mrs. M. V. Shelby, of 4183 Kossuth avenue, will entertain the L. N. D. S. Club Thursday, June 23. After the regular business a short programme will be rendered. Members are requested to meet at 2 p. m.

Surprised Their Many Friends.

Miss Victoria S. Clay and Mr. James L. Haley were quietly married last Wednesday evening at 5:30 o'clock, Dr. Roberts, of St. Paul's chapel, performing the ceremony. The wedding had been planned for Wednesday, June 22, and a few friends, together with the relatives, had been invited to witness the ceremony at the church, but at the last moment the young couple decided they could wait no longer, and concluded to marry immediately. Miss Clay was a prominent teacher of Wheatly school, and a well-known elocutionist of marked ability. Mr. Haley is one of the oldest and most efficient clerks in the St. Louis post office. Mr. and Mrs. Haley are temporarily stopping at the Douglass hotel, where they will be pleased to receive their many friends.

Arrival at the Newport.

Samuel Parker, Revue, N. Y.; E. Pondexter, Detroit; E. F. Thompson, N. Y.; Jno. Thornton, Macon, Mo.; M. B. Johnson, Chicago; W. H. Dangerfield, Washington, D. C.; E. D. Molson, Columbus, O.; W. E. Scott, Chicago; L. H. Godwin, Chicago; J. H. Jones, Chicago; W. H. Conners, Chicago; Fred Wells, Memphis; W. H. Blake, N. Y.; W. P. Carr, N. Y.

Death Ends Her Days.

Mrs. Lucy Barrow, of 2026 Lucas avenue, died last Tuesday, after nearly three months' suffering. She was a member of Central Baptist church. She leaves sons and daughters and many friends to mourn her loss. She was buried from the Central Baptist church last Friday. She was 62.

Killed by a Street Car.

Mrs. Prince, the wife of Daniel Prince, was struck by a street car and almost instantly killed last Monday. She leaves a husband and several daughters to mourn her loss. She was an old citizen of St. Louis. Thus we pass out one by one, and are known beneath the sun no more.

Mrs. A. M. Curtis, of Washington, D. C., is in the city, interested in World's fair matter. We wish her success.

Meals at all Hours 25 Cents. Short Orders. Everything First-Class Cars to Fair Pass the Door.

MRS. ROBERT FIELDS

Furnished Rooms, With or Without Board

722 North 16th Street, St. Louis, Mo.

DON'T MISS

THE

Grandest Reception of the Season

AT THE MASONIC TEMPLE

Under the Auspices of

HEROINES OF JERICO AND KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Monday, June 20th

At 8:00 p. m.

IOWA BUILDING WORLD'S FAIR.